MANCHESTER CITY VS INTER MILAN CHAMPIONS LEAGUE FINALS

Manchester City

A dream that has eluded them being just a step away, these Cityzens want to make history and lift the Cup for the first time in Manchester City vs Inter.

From having been written off and worn down at the start of the season, to coming from behind in the Premier League to anchor their title defense; to downing the reigning Champions League champions on a monumental night. What you see from Manchester City today is pure magic and class in their soccer, with a squad that is connected, very well positioned, and, above all, not reliant on some great savior. Pep Guardiola has assembled an integral group that arrives and anyone is capable of scoring the goal that changes history.

In the games against Real Madrid the club played with a 3 - 2 - 4 - 1, this lineup allows an exceptional handling of the field towards the middle, in addition to the fluidity of the fullbacks to accelerate certain plays. It is a very good lineup to face in Manchester City vs Inter.

A path to glory brings Manchester City closer to lifting the most important cup for clubs.

If at the beginning of the season, even in the middle, we had thought of the Cityzens lifting both the Premier League and the Champions League, it would have seemed impossible. But now it is a completely viable reality, as the resilience and grit of this squad is to be feared, especially in this Manchester City vs Inter.

Manchester City's group stage for many meant a gift and a safe passage to the next stage, they played against Sevilla, Dortmund and Kobenhavn, although not everything was flowers for them. In the round of 16 they played against Leipzig, whom they beat with an aggregate score of 8 - 1, with perhaps the most scandalous match of the season in terms of scoring. In the quarterfinals, they reaffirmed that they were going all out for the title when they knocked out Bayern 4-1 on aggregate. And in the semifinals they had a party with the Whites, drawing the first leg, but winning 4-1 on aggregate.

Kevin de Bruyne scored the goal in the first match, while in the second match Bernardo Silva and Julian Alvarez scored.

INTER MILAN

After thirteen years the Negriazules will live once again a final, against a new rival, but with a lot to offer.

With high expectations, the quarterfinals took place at the San Siro, where they had to face nothing less than their classic rival, Milan, for a derby. There, Inter were able to score three goals to nil on aggregate, leaving the opposing team null and void and demonstrating their power.

On both occasions, Simone Inzaghi's approach was 3 - 5 - 2 lines, making his midfield extremely strong, to even serve as reinforcements in the defense, and building long passes to serve the stars up front. In the two games they paid off, hindering any attempt of filtration by the opponent, with no space for counterattacks and creating propitious outlets for scores. It is expected that they will set a similar lineup, which will disarticulate the proposal that the other team may have, although perhaps they will reinforce the defenses a little more for Manchester City vs Inter.

Surviving the most important derby in recent years, Inter Milan are once again in a Champions League final for Manchester City vs Inter.

Reaching this stage is not something that can be achieved easily, for any team. But Inter's season has been one of the most solid in a long time, not only in this competition, but also in their crazy league, where they have managed to finish in the top four and secure their passage to another season in the Champions League.

Since the group stage it was already clear that they could go far, standing out while sharing spaces with clubs like Barcelona, who were eliminated in the first round, or Bayern, who were left out because of the other finalist club. Then they left behind in the quarterfinals a powerful Benfica, to whom many had put the chips, and even the statistics favored them, against all odds they reached the semifinals, after more than a decade. There they faced Milan, whom they defeated without any doubt, both duels were theirs for the passage to Manchester City vs Inter.

PREDICTION: MANCHESTER CITY VS INTER MILAN CHAMPIONS LEAGUE FINALS

These two teams have never had to face each other before, this time being unprecedented. It will be Lautaro Martinez of Inter vs Julian Alvarez of Manchester; Lukaku vs Haaland A great game is in store!

In the season the Negriazules have lost twice; while the Cityzens have not known defeat, if they win the final, they would do it undefeated. The former have an overall accuracy of 83%, while the latter have an accuracy of 90%. Inter have eight clean sheets and have scored 31 goals, while Manchester City have seven clean sheets and have scored 19 goals.

The odds for Manchester City vs Inter leave 69% of the odds for the English side to win; the Italians have just 12% of the statistics in their favor. The final score could be 4 - 1.
