statement while having dinner on a date with Dan, a gentleman Marsha has seen around the court. Still, she is unaware that he is a reporter for the Daily Justice Newspaper. Marsha makes a statement that puts herself and the Judge at the center of controversy in an already challenging political environment.

"The feedback from viewers and industry professionals has been amazing for me, my team, and the cast," stated Khan. "I believe this series will be around for a long time." "I'm looking forward to tackling some serious and challenging issues within the storyline as well as bringing on celebrity guests to make appearances throughout the season". Plans are underway to get started on production for a full season of the series in the fall of 2023. "We encourage viewers to watch the show on Prime Video and leave a review if possible."
