"Nissan IMx is a crossover EV that shows the direction of new space design required for the automatic driving era coming in the near future.

Nissan IMx took inspiration from a sense of "WA" or harmony and Japanese aesthetics, then expressed the coexistence of "Sei and Dou" or "stillness and motion" in the design. Expressing the characteristics of EV with quiet and smooth, yet powerful and dynamic with light, through exterior design. Interior design embodies the calm and simple open-space connecting "inside" and "outside" of the car which can be found in a traditional Japanese house, by the latest technology for the limited interior space." - Nissan

"The innovative concept vehicle provides a glimpse into the future of Nissan Intelligent Mobility, Nissan's approach to changing how cars are powered, driven and integrated with society. It's
