PowerPatent is excited to show off its latest patent drafting solutions for generating first draft applications from the claims and from the drawings.”

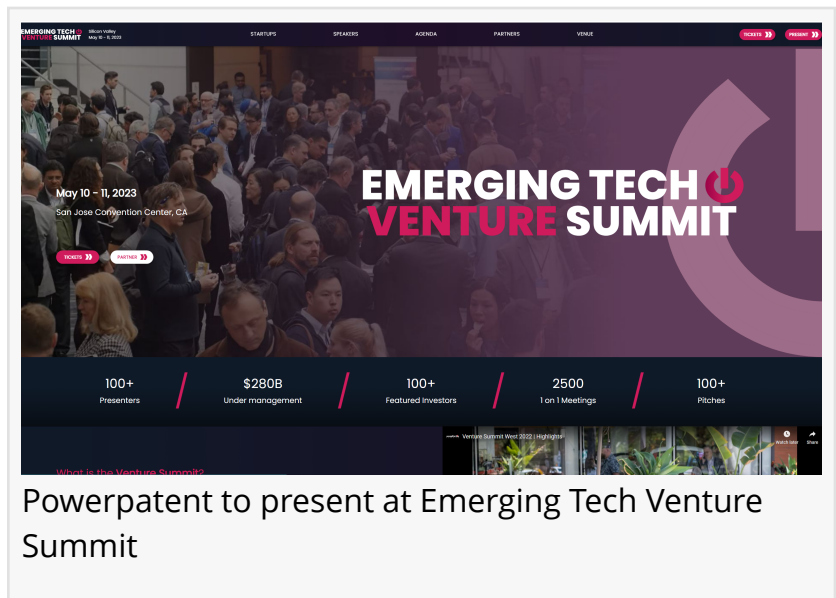

Jack Clark, Director of Business Development

IPBC Global is renowned as the premier gathering for over 600 senior decision makers and thought leaders operating in the IP market. The conference provided a platform for corporate executives, investors, policy experts, and legal professionals to share insights, engage in discussions, and build strategic partnerships. This year's event focused on critical topics, including technology convergence, licensing negotiations, SEP disputes, resource constraints, and more.

As the event, PowerPatent showcased its innovative legal technology solutions, demonstrating how artificial intelligence (AI) is transforming the patent application process and revolutionizing IP strategy. The company highlighted its advanced generative AI patent drafting and validity searching solution, which empowers inventors and attorneys to streamline and optimize their patent applications.

During the conference, PowerPatent emphasized the benefits of AI-driven IP creation, prosecution, and monetization. By leveraging AI tools, professionals can seamlessly navigate the complex landscape of patent drafting, analysis, and risk mitigation, allowing them to focus on strategic decision-making and value creation. PowerPatent's solutions enable inventors and attorneys to harness the power of AI to perform efficient patent searches, analyze prior art, and optimize patent claims for better protection and monetization.
