"It's important that our clients get the space that is both convenient and comfortable enough to share their stories," said David Giaro, Esq., personal injury attorney at the firm's Newark office. "Meeting in person always outweighs a phone conversation in creating and maintaining relationships."

The Newark location was chosen strategically, taking note of the community's needs and the desire to offer the best possible client experience. The firm is delighted to be situated in the same building as the Mount Prospect Health Center, renowned for providing excellent medical care to injured victims for over thirty years. This proximity will foster collaboration between legal and medical professionals, ultimately benefiting clients who require comprehensive support throughout their personal injury cases.

Eight of the firm's attorneys with New Jersey Bar memberships have served NJ clients for over 25 years. However, the opening of the Newark office allows Sobo & Sobo to bring their services directly to the local community. Their New Jersey team also includes Spanish-speaking staff to better help the local Hispanic communities. Their team of dedicated New Jersey injury lawyers in Newark include:

- Michael Wolff, Esq.
- Oliver Bather, Esq.
- Rose Harper, Esq.
- Lovedeep Sidhu, Esq.
- David Giaro, Esq.
- Epiphanie Ridick, Esq.

The Newark office will provide a convenient location for clients to meet with the firm's experienced staff, ensuring a smoother and more convenient experience for all.

"More and more residents of Newark have been contacting Sobo & Sobo's unique, client-friendly brand of personal injury services," said Greg Sobo, Founder and CEO of Sobo & Sobo LLP. "We are excited to bring our services directly to this vibrant and dynamic community to continue to provide the best possible client experience and recovery."
