Meekaam Sourcing Partner Called Sourcing Captain

Overseas buyers face many difficulties in conducting B2B deals in China. Language barriers, lack of knowledge of local business conventions, and pure geographical distance make completing purchases of industrial goods a headache. Meekaam's platform eliminates the buyers' stress of sourcing and procuring the goods themselves. Enter Sourcing Captain.

Sourcing Captain: The Ideal Sourcing Partner

Sourcing Captain is a PMP-Certified organization that specializes in project delivery. Meekaam has partnered with Sourcing Captain to provide an O2O sourcing service for its VIP clients. Navigating the tricky landscape of China's industrial manufacturing sector is best left to the experts. And with 18 years of experience in project delivery, Sourcing Captain is the ideal fit for the role.

Instead of simply brokering a sale between two businesses, Meekaam's VIP sourcing service lets it function as an agent. Sourcing Captain takes on the responsibility of building a customized supply chain for clients. Sourcing quality goods, reducing procurement costs, shortening delivery times, and adding value to the product — Sourcing Captain does it all.

For a small five percent commission, Sourcing Captain will also handle factory selection, production arrangements, quality control, export approval processing, and shipment orders. An entire supply chain is built from the ground up while the client can focus on researching, developing, designing, and improving their product.

In the rare case where a product is unavailable on the Meekaam platform, Sourcing Captain goes the extra mile to find it offline. The VIP sourcing service also comes with the assurance of regular quality inspections carried out by Sourcing Captain.
