Redmatter*

Through this deployment Redmatter's community of users will immediately benefit by accessing the latest premium intelligence across the digital asset sector including Web3, NFT's, Trading and Carbon Offsets. Both companies plan to deliver a wide range of embedded data products related to Ai Driven Analytics built into the vertical data intelligence using Plato's content distribution and syndication network.

“Redmatter is all about driving authentic connectivity to the digital assets it currently supports. Plato's expertise in this area is an invaluable resource for accelerating our plans for 2023 and beyond. We are excited to take part in building what we believe will deliver high value to our community and beyond” said Prem Couture, Redmatter's Founder and CEO.

“We are excited to work with Redmatter and see a perfect fit for our Ai capabilities across Redmatter's entire ecosystem. Driving authentic engagement and insights around the intelligence our engine produces was a driving force behind the integration into PlatoAi.Redmatter.Capital” said Bryan Feinberg, Plato’s Founder and CEO.

Via the partnership, Plato’s was able to quickly integrate its intelligence engine to help Redmatter achieve maximum reach and organic. The partnership promises deep value across each company’s respective platforms and ecosystems and will leverage both Plato’s and Redmatter’s extensive blockchain expertise in designing innovative solutions using blockchain. Rematter users will benefit from Plato’s Ai curation as way to both engage and educate the expanding role digital assets are playing in across the world of decentralized finance
