/EINPresswire.com/ -- The global aircraft cabin interiors market size was USD 25.00 billion in 2022 and is expected to register a revenue CAGR of 8.0% during the forecast period, according to the latest analysis by Emergen Research. Rising demand for affordable, both short- and long-haul airline flights, increasing customer comfort and luxury aspects, increasing air travel and air traffic, high demand for maintenance, servicing, and overhauling of flight components, increasing technological advancements, particularly in sustainability and next-generation interior furnishing, and rising demand for interior art research and development are some of the key factors driving revenue growth in the aircraft cabin interiors market.

The Aircraft Cabin Interiors Market refers to the industry that deals with the design, manufacturing, and installation of various components and systems inside the cabin of an aircraft. These components include seating arrangements, overhead compartments, lighting systems, lavatories, galleys, and in-flight entertainment systems, among others.

The market for aircraft cabin interiors is driven by several factors. Firstly, the growing demand for air travel, particularly in emerging economies, has led to an increase in aircraft production and fleet expansion. This, in turn, has created a demand for modern and comfortable cabin interiors to enhance the passenger experience.

Furthermore, airlines are continuously striving to differentiate themselves and attract passengers by providing superior comfort and amenities. This has led to an increased focus on cabin interior upgrades and retrofits, resulting in a significant market opportunity for cabin interior manufacturers and suppliers.
