A new direction for Hip from a broken mind- 'The Ultimatum Edition' is a 5-track record which underscores the journey of finding a moral compass in the dark

LEOMINSTER, MASSACHUSETTS, UNITED STATES, June 14, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tutrenium No-Okamai breaks new ground with his latest EP, 'The Ultimatum Edition.' With five tracks that delve into the depths of his broken mind, Tutrenium presents a contemplative and thought-provoking exploration of a darker path, challenging conventional notions of finding light in darkness.

In a landscape dominated by technically polished and computer-focused music, Tutrenium stands apart by staying true to his vision of authenticity. He takes pride in crafting his music without external mastering, rejecting the notion of creating artificial sounds and instead emphasizing the importance of expressing one's true voice.

The talented artist believes that most rappers today are merely "paid to brag," offering a false sense of excitement without addressing real problems. While some of his songs may be considered offensive, he encourages listeners to explore the deeper messages within his music, including the exploration of a corrupt system as vividly portrayed in his standout track, 'They Blamed the Devil.'

In addition to his thought-provoking content, Tutrenium also injects humor and clever wordplay into his music. Through tracks like 'Kitty is Fat,' he challenges societal expectations and trolls listeners with playful innuendos.

Tutrenium's artistic integrity extends to his stance on financial support. Instead of seeking donations or sales, he prefers that corporation's foot the bill, allowing listeners to enjoy his authentic music without any financial burden. Tutrenium's goal is to create a space where genuine music thrives, offering listeners an immersive experience that resonates on a deeper level.

"I made my music with the intent of speaking my truth. I believe in actual music not a false sense of excitement and my channel promotes real problems," comments the artist on his raw artistry.
