Meytier works with over 55 Financial Services and Tech companies across North America, UK, and India to help them access more diverse, untapped talent pools and hire more equitably through an:

- (1) platform as-a-service model to hire through the platform with a special focus on improving diversity in their workforce.
- (2) as a SaaS based Talent Research & Intelligence Platform (TRIP) to assess their own hiring pipelines, access job description analytics, and / or internal mobility use cases.

About the Meytier Talent Research & Intelligence Platform (TRIP)

Addresses equitable hiring through all steps of the process: sourcing, job specs, screening, matching, and end to end experience for stakeholder and candidates.

Provides rich analytics around job descriptions, talent pool, talent brand, and hiring strategies. We help companies find candidates that they may have "missed" through traditional channels and screening technology and reimagine hiring managers' view of talent to help them hire candidates to potential.

Supports both sides of the equation by helping people, women and diverse cohorts in particular, position their skills, accomplishments, resumes, and experience more effectively.

Helps improve end to end experience, time-to-hire, and hiring outcomes while reducing significant spend across internal efforts and external agencies through our subscription model.
