

TOA Waters Is Bursting Gender Stereotypes In The Bathtub This Father's Day

Trendsetting bubble bath company kicks societal notions to the curb, offering a unique line of "bold-scented" bubble baths

FREDERICK, MARYLAND, UNITED STATES, June 16, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- TOA Waters, a trendsetting bubble bath company, is kicking societal notions to the curb and reclaiming people's bathtubs this Father's Day. Steering away from the typically "floral-scented" baths, the company offers a unique line of "bold-scented" bubble baths, breaking bathroom stereotypes - disrupting the bath industry.

It's about time we take charge and shatter those gender roles in the bathtub, starting with our bubble baths.”

Javier Folgar, owner and founder of TOA Waters

While so many companies in the bath industry only offer the cliché rose-scented bubble bath products that don't cater to everyone's preferences, TOA Waters has created a line of bubble baths that burst gender stereotypes, one bubble at a time. Men no longer worry about how indulging in a bubble bath will impact their image, or women, feel as if flowery scents and a side of glitter are all available. TOA Waters provides premium bubble baths for the bold bather. Offering a line of bath products that are handmade with the finest ingredients and are 100% Vegan - enriched with coconut milk, B vitamins, calcium, and much more. LGBTQ+/Latin-Small business owned, handcrafted, and proudly made in the USA – making a unique and memorable gift this Father's Day.

“Gender. It's not so pink and blue anymore. One just needs to glance around to realize that today's culture has done much to shatter traditional gender roles,” said Javier Folgar, owner and founder of TOA Waters. “It's about time we take charge and shatter those gender roles in the bathtub, starting with our bubble baths.”
