and talent who truly stand out during a time when the ubiquity of screens brings more clutter than quality into our lives. These are the creators and innovators who spotlight diverse voices, who are building a more sustainable industry, and who break through the static with their creativity.

“The caliber of the work this season coming from creators such as the Dear Future Wifey Podcast truly has reflected the theme of breaking out and standing out,” said Tellys Executive Director Sabrina Dridje. “Our industry is experimenting with new technologies like never before, crafting truly compelling stories to draw attention to some of the world's most pressing issues, and companies big and small are turning to more sustainable practices to break the cycle of past production processes.”

"It's a great honor to be recognized by industry professionals for the hard work I invest into the craft of the 'Dear Future Wifey' Podcast," shares Laterras. "To receive a silver and bronze Telly Award was an unexpected blessing and a God wink. Thank you to the Tellys for finding value in my content."

Conceived in 2020, Laterras birthed the Dear Future Wifey Podcast as a transformative tool to heal his own relationship struggles and embark on a profound journey of self-discovery. Today, Dear Future Wifey, fearlessly, explores the intricacies and nuances of relationships alongside some of the industry's most notable celebrities, influential personalities, and trending voices, who unapologetically share their lived experiences as singles and couples, embracing the diverse paths they've traveled, and navigating the joys, obstacles and complexities of love along the way.

The award-winning episode, featuring comedian Whitney LaBelle Davis, tickled audiences when an embarrassing moment turned into the infamous "wig fail" heard around the world.

"There are certain moments that render me speechless," states Laterras. "The wig fail by itself was one, but garnering 73 million views was one that completely left me without words and took things to a whole new level."

And the viral moments don't stop there. Recently, on May 24 and 25, 2023, the Dear Future Wifey podcast took the internet by storm again, due to an exclusive, tell-all interview with Da'Naia Jackson, wife of self-proclaimed relationship guru, Derrick Jaxn. The highly anticipated conversation, was presented in two parts, "Sorry, Mrs. Jackson (Part One)" and "So Sorry, Mrs. Jackson (Part Two)," and featured the first-ever sit down interview with Da'Naia, who finally broke her silence since she and her husband gained international attention from a controversial video declaring their commitment to working through a startling cheating scandal.

The 44th Annual Telly Awards's official theme was "Break Through the Static," and this year's entries did just that. This record breaking year received nearly 13,000 entries from across the globe and top video and television content producers such as Airbnb, Audible, BET Networks/BET Digital, BritBox, Disney, FEMA, Gaumont, Golden State Warriors, MediaMonks, NASA, National Geographic Society, Netflix, Paramount, PBS Digital Studios and more.
