

Frisco Health Insurance Suffers Setbacks In Claims Process For Many Americans

Frisco health insurance agent: Nationwide claim denials leave Americans with out-of-pocket expenses or forgo medical care.

FRISCO, TEXAS, USA, July 6, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Frisco health insurance claims are being denied nationwide, forcing countless Americans to either make out-of-pocket accommodations or skip seeking medical help entirely. And that's just the national average. Some insurance companies had high rates of claim denials, with one insurer denying a significant portion of claims a couple of years ago, and another experiencing a substantial denial rate in one of the year. Health officials are raising concerns about the perplexing reasons behind claim

Frisco Health Insurance Company

The latest news is a nationwide issue and is a major topic of concern for individuals and families with health insurance in Frisco. But there may be a few reasons why this is happening. The first is that insurers appear to be forgoing human analysis during the claims process in favor of computers to make faster decisions. As a result, the computers aren't taking into consideration patient history or what makes the most sense for each situation. The second reason is that insurers are hiring people to do the same work, though those employees likely have limited experience and, thus, are denying claims in batches without reviewing the patient's medical chart for a history of similar approvals.

Rick Thornton, a Frisco health insurance agent, said many patients in Texas and surrounding communities are receiving denial letters from their health insurance carriers stating that the patient had asked for coverage for medical intervention that wasn't medically needed, even though previous claims for the same reasons were approved. Thornton said time will tell if the denial surge is resolved.
