

Ducky Neptune Releases Debut Album 'Insensitive Plastic' Bringing New Wave of Psychedelic Surf-Soul to Nashville

NASHVILLE, TENN., UNITED STATES, June 23, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Indie-Rock band, Ducky Neptune, is excited to announce the release of their debut album, 'Insensitive Plastic', available now via AWAL Distribution. Recorded at FAME Studios in Muscle Shoals, Alabama, and mixed by 4x Grammy-awarded mixing engineer, Robert Carranza, the album is a unique blend of psychedelic surf-soul that is sure to bring a new wave of sound to the Nashville music scene.

'Insensitive Plastic' features 8 tracks that encompass the band's signature sound - a mix of classic rock, funk, and soul, with a modern twist. This new studio work will appeal to a broad pool of listeners. In particular, Ducky Neptune's music is highly recommended to fans of artists such as My Morning Jacket, Pearl Jam, Mt. Joy, and Sticky Fingers, to mention a few. The lead singles from the album released earlier this year, "Charlie", "Mary", and "Jamesy Boy," offer a great representation of the band's sound and an insight into the album's stylistic quirks and mood.

An amazing blend of psych-surf and soul that forms this unique, catchy dreamy indie sound.”

The album's lead single, "Charlie," is a laid-back, feel-good anthem. Fame Magazine cited it as, “An amazing blend of psych-surf and soul that forms this unique, catchy dreamy indie sound.” On “Mary,” the band leans more prominently into their retro rock influences with playful vocal harmonies and distorted guitars. This tune is reminiscent

The most recent single from this release is "Jamesy Boy," and it is not a stretch to say that this is one of the album's most memorable songs. Fun, groovy, and instinctual, this song captures the raw energy of the band's live performance.
