

Media Alert - The God Bombs Announce New Single "Bleed"

Gothic/Industrial L.A. Band The God Bombs Tackle the Horror of Mental Illness in "Bleed"

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, June 22, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Gothic/Industrial band The God Bombs unleash their latest single and video "Bleed".

"BLEED" is a horror film about mental illness. It's about feeling lost in life, with the voice of the demons within causing torment. The voice in this case is represented by a creepy haunted porcelain doll that beckons the protagonist to a house of horrors, where the monsters of the mind take over. The idea for the film came from director/cinematographer/editor Jason Kaplan, singer Justin Symbol, and bassist West Rozen, who provided locations. In the end, the main character is victorious over the demons of the mind, and the doll is left in a pool of blood. "BLEED" is ultimately about conquering fears.

Video: Directed, produced, and edited by Jason Kaplan. Location Manager West Rozen. Makeup Artist Autumn Lee.

“

"BLEED" is a horror film about mental illness. It's about feeling lost in life, with the voice in your head telling you you're nothing."

The God Bombs are currently releasing a series of singles with music videos shot and directed by LA cinematographer Jason Kaplan as part of an ongoing artistic collaboration. These singles are planned to culminate into an album entitled GΩDHEAD. This album is the long-awaited conceptual followup to Symbol's 2014 solo debut VΩIDHEAD, which featured co-founding Marilyn Manson guitarist Daisy Berkowitz. A release date for GΩDHEAD is not currently specified, but it promises to be a huge step forward for the band in production, sound, and style.
