This labor of love is a reimagining of this timeless hit from the iconic Abbey Road album. DRMAGDN has taken great care to add lush orchestration, breathtaking drums, and a modern EDM pop production style reminiscent of renowned DJs like Kygo, Alan Walker and Marshmello. The remix pays homage not only to the music but also to the iconic imagery of one of the most renowned records of all time. For the artwork, DRMAGDN re-created the legendary Abbey Road album cover right in the heart of NYC. And for the music video, he embarked on a journey to all the New York locations the four young lads from Liverpool visited during their first US trip launching their undeniable worldwide success.

The depth and complexity of the track is undeniable, featuring the captivating vocals of Michelle Ray from The Voice. Adding further musical brilliance to the mix are Dave Eggar on strings (known for his Grammy-winning work on Coldplay's "Viva La Vida"), Danny Flam on horns (responsible for Grammy-winning tracks like Kanye West and Rihanna's "All Of The Lights"), and Oscar Albis Rodriguez on guitar/bass (whose talents have graced projects by A Great Big World, Sarah McLachlan, and more). The final touch of vinyl mastering by Andy Vandette, known for his work with musical legends like U2, David Bowie, The Prodigy, Aerosmith, Rush, and Cirque Du Soleil, adds a polished sheen to the remix.
