

Brian Newsome Installed as President of Associated General Contractors of Georgia

Albion General Contractors CEO to Serve One-Year Term

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, June 28, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Associated General Contractors of Georgia (AGC Georgia), the leading statewide association for the construction industry, recently elected Brian Newsome as its chapter president. Other officers joining AGC Georgia's board of directors include: Joe Tuggle of Tuggle Construction, LLC as vice president, Mike Macon of Balfour Beatty Construction as treasurer and Sean Moxley of Garbutt Construction Company as secretary.

Newsome is the CEO of Albion General Contractors headquartered in Sandy Springs. Albion provides construction management, design-build, and general contracting services throughout the state of Georgia and the southeast. Albion is proud to serve a diverse clientele throughout the commercial, government, education, healthcare, and worship markets.

"I'm honored to represent my industry peers with my service leading the AGC Georgia Board during the next year." Newsome said.

Newsome and his wife Kim, who is the CFO of Albion General Contractors, purchased the business in 2003. The pair bring a diverse background to the business with prior careers in IT and banking. The Newsomes flipped the business from a company that built cell phone towers into a general contracting business and continued to grow year after year thanks to clients who became raving fans. In 2021, Albion General Contractors became a 100 percent employee-owned company, something that was part of the vision all along for the company.

The Associated General Contractors of Georgia (AGC Georgia), the leading statewide association for the construction industry, recently elected Brian Newsome of Albion General Contractors, Inc. as its chapter president.
