Seamlessly integrate technology and artistry, accessing skilled performers from anywhere in the world!

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, July 3, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Permit Live Reshapes Motion Capture Production with Remote Directing and Global Talent Pool

Permit Live, a ground-breaking motion capture service, is set to revolutionize the animation industry with its innovative technology and remote capabilities. Founded by a team of visionary engineers, Permit Live empowers animators to bring their visions to life through authentic motion capture, all from the comfort of their home or office.

A digital performer acting in a digital world remotely

Permit Live revolutionizes motion capture, granting animators unparalleled access to talent and offering a greener approach to animation,”

Jon Dalzell, CEO & Co-Founder of Permit Live

Permit Live's state-of-the-art motion capture suit and real-time avatar technology enable animators to remotely direct skilled performers in a virtual world. With seamless integration via an iOS app, animators can effortlessly capture even the most intricate movements.

What sets Permit Live apart is its commitment to convenience, sustainability, and affordability. By eliminating the need for travel, Permit Live contributes to a greener planet while reducing production costs associated with traditional motion capture setups. The service provides access to a global talent pool of highly skilled professional performers, ensuring a perfect match for each project.

Permit Live offers bespoke motion capture sessions at an exceptional value. With prices as low as $18 for a 20-minute connection and $80 for a 1-hour connection during the beta stage, animators can bring their projects to life without breaking the bank.

Initially available in the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom, Performit Live has plans for wider expansion and an upcoming Android app release in 2023, further enhancing accessibility for animators worldwide.

"Performit Live revolutionizes motion capture, granting animators unparalleled access to talent and offering a greener approach to animation," says Jon Dalzell, CEO & Co-Founder of Performit Live. "We are thrilled to empower animators with our innovative technology, allowing them to unleash their creativity like never before."

James Banfield, Head of Entertainment and Co-Founder at Performit Live, adds, "Our remote motion capture technology opens up endless creative possibilities. With Performit Live, creatives can collaborate with top-notch performers from anywhere, ensuring their artistic vision comes to life flawlessly."

Performit Live invites animators and industry professionals to join the open beta and experience the future of motion capture first-hand. To learn more and sign up for the service, visit www.performitlive.com or download the app from the iOS app store today, which includes sample files to test in your workflow.
