Rockster is known globally for its bio-organic, human-grade ingredients certified free from antibiotics, chemicals, hormones, pesticides and steroids ensuring the purest and highest quality meal for dogs. Their products are prepared with bio-organic meat, and a variety of nutrient-rich fruits and vegetables, including Superfoods, such as quinoa, sweet potatoes, and cranberries, all key ingredients which contribute to a dogs' health and vitality.

Rockster is more than just a successful dog food company, it's a love story. It began on the streets of Naples, Italy when Zoe and Sven Ley, an English couple on their honeymoon, rescued an emaciated street dog, who they later named The Rockster. After the couple returned to their hometown in England, Rockster refused to eat commercial dog food. The couple sought advice from Europe's leading experts on canine nutrition. They learned about the importance of gut and digestive health in dogs and the potential harm hormones, steroids and chemicals can cause. They were inspired by their new found knowledge and overwhelming love for The Rockster, so together they embarked on a mission to create a superfood which would enhance the health of dogs. They combined the most powerful nutritional science, natural and organic superfoods, and a revolutionary cooking process to ensure nutrient preservation in a can. This super-premium, nutrient-rich, organic dog food is suitable for dogs with allergies due to its single protein formula and its lack of harmful chemicals, allergens, or gluten.
