We are thrilled to be extending our partnership with Hossley Lighting and Power Solutions (Hossley LP), and adding Century Sales, and JR and Associates, as part of our continued strategic growth initiative. The addition of these experienced representatives enhances our mission to provide state-of-the-art, energy-efficient lighting solutions to our diverse clientele.

Hossley Lighting and Power Solutions (Hossley LP) is now our proud sales representative in the Oklahoma territory. With an impressive track record and extensive experience in lighting and power solutions, Hossley LP aligns with our commitment to excellence and customer service. Their comprehensive knowledge of the local market will enable us to better serve customers in Oklahoma, providing innovative and sustainable lighting solutions.

Covering Northern California, we have partnered with Century Sales, a firm with a sterling reputation in sales representation and a deep understanding of the region. Their dedication to quality service and vast connections within the industry will greatly enhance our reach and provide our customers with exceptional support.

Lastly, JR and Associates will be representing Enerlites in the Nebraska and Iowa territories. Known for their strong customer relationships and industry expertise, JR and Associates will play a critical role in our expansion efforts.

Their familiarity with the market will ensure that our clients in these regions have access to the top-quality, energy-efficient lighting solutions that Enerlites is known for.

"We are delighted to be joining forces with these distinguished sales representatives," said Evelyn Cockrell, Regional Sales Manager. "Their strong industry relationships, combined with their intimate understanding of their respective territories, make them valuable partners as we continue to broaden our reach and bring advanced, energy-saving solutions to new markets.”
