This song conveys the feeling of trying to feel close and connected to a loved one living far away.”

"Watch the Moon" was released independently under Emilia Vaughn Entertainment and Media Group, LLC on July 7, 2023, after a 3-week pre-sale period, which kicked off June 16. The song was written by Emilia Vaughn and produced by Robbie Dean of OC Hit. The album artwork was creatively directed by Emilia Vaughn and photographed by Mia Bregman. Additional supporting promotional assets and press images were photographed by Dani N Thompson of DNT Entertainment.

"Watch the Moon" describes a universally available commonplace where anyone can go to seek comfort and feel closer to the ones they love and miss. The moon is a bridge shortening the distance between lovers, friends, and family seeking solace. It's a dreamy mellow acoustic guitar ballad with thought-provoking warm lyrics. It has a runtime of 3 minutes and 48 seconds and a tempo of 105 bpm.

"This song conveys the feeling of trying to feel close and connected to a loved one living far away. Watching the moon can make us feel closer to those watching that same moon in a distant location." - Emilia Vaughn

In addition to Emilia's newest release, "Watch the Moon," her single "Sunflower" continues to captivate mainstream media and Top 40 and Hot AC format radio stations throughout the country over a year after its original release in March of 2022. "Sunflower" has gained esteemed recognition on iTunes and Amazon charts peaking at #75 on the coveted Top 40 iTunes charts and #4 on Amazon Movers & Shakers charts. The supporting music video has aired on various MTV networks, Nick Music, Clear TV, and in numerous Pop video lineups worldwide.

Emilia hopes the continued support of radio and mainstream media will amplify the song's message and provide an opportunity to maximize the success of the "Sunflower" humanitarian aid campaign, making a tangible difference in the lives of those in need.
