“

Testosterone replacement therapy with the T-Optimizer™ program can improve many of the sexual, physical and psychological symptoms of low testosterone.”

Dr. Aaron Goldstein

The Pollock T-Optimizer™ program offers an evidence-based, patient-centered approach to hormone replacement therapy that ensures each man receives a tailored treatment plan for his unique needs. This approach is based on the latest research and aims to help men improve their drive, from the boardroom to the bedroom.

The program's daily testosterone micro-dosing prescription strategy is designed to maximize efficacy and minimize effects. In addition, the program delivers a comprehensive annual physical exam to ensure cardiovascular and prostate health, a focused exam every three months, and private, personalized lab testing done in the comfort of our New Westminster clinic location.

The goal of the Pollock T-Optimizer™ program is to mimic as closely as possible a man's natural daily release of testosterone, which occurs at night peaking in the morning and then waning throughout the day. The treatment has been proven to have a positive impact on sexual health,
