The 2023 AAPC will begin with a keynote address on UAP by Rear Admiral Tim Gallaudet, PhD, US Navy (ret), CEO of Ocean STL Consulting on Saturday, July 29, entitled, The New Scientific Revolution of Anomalous Phenomena.

The conference will feature an international lineup of scientists, academics, and former government officials. Speakers and panelists joining the AAPC this year include Luc Dini, Chairman of French 3AF Technical Commission SIGMA2 on UAP Studies; Prof. Tim Murithi, University of Free State, South Africa; Inbar Pincu, doctoral student, Hebrew University of Jerusalem; Prof. Erling Stand, Project Hessdalen, Norway; Dr. Beatriz Villaroel, astronomer at Nordita in Stockholm; and many more.

“Advancing the scientific study of UAP is at the heart of our organization, and our annual conference is part of that mission,” said Executive Board member Rich Hoffman. “This year’s conference continues our tradition of bringing scientists and academics together to discuss our shared interest in an international yet-to-be-explained phenomenon.”
