About: Jonathan W. Emord

For the past 38 years, Jonathan W. Emord has litigated against the federal bureaucracy, winning over and over again. Ron Paul calls Jonathan "an expert in constitutional theory and history" and

"an expert litigator with a long string of legal victories over the federal bureaucracy. George Noory calls him "a Knight in Shining Armor" and "a warrior out to save our rights." Congressmen Dan Burton and John Doolittle describe him as "an intellectual warrior for the rights and freedoms of people in America." Jonathan has a unique, detailed knowledge of the federal bureaucracy, the deep state. He knows how to defeat it.

Jonathan frequently appears in the Washington Times, on Real Americas Voice, 'Securing America,' on Sirius XM's Wilkow Majority,' Chris Stigall 'Philadelphia's Morning Answer,' Cumulus Radio's WMAL 105.9, 'Joe Thomas in the Morning' on WCHV, TNT Radio, 'The Mike Adams Show' and 'The Power Hour.'

Jonathan graduated from the University of Illinois (BA, political science and history, 1982) and DePaul University College of Law (JD, 1985). He served as an attorney in the Federal Communications Commission during the Reagan administration. He is a leading constitutional law and litigation expert and the author of five critically acclaimed books. He has won more federal court cases against the Food and Drug Administration than any other attorney in American history, earning him the nickname "FDA Dragon Slayer." He is a columnist for Townhall.com, PJ Media.com, Americangreatness.com, and USA Today Magazine. He frequently appears on national radio and television programs. He is married to Sheryl Emord, and they have two children, twins Justica and Angelica. They reside in Clifton, Virginia.
