has launched travel-size versions of its steroid-free eczema and psoriasis creams, providing unparalleled convenience for travelers and relief from skin condition flare-ups on the go

By introducing the travel-size versions of eczema and psoriasis creams, we continue to prioritize well-being by providing convenient and reliable solutions for travel plans.”

Vic Peroni, chief operating officer of ARCTIVA™ Wellness

- The travel-size creams are dermatologist and pediatrician-approved, making them essential for travelers of all ages, including families with young children

- ARCTIVA's breakthrough formulations, enhanced with unique glycolipid technology, have garnered widespread recognition and a success rate of over 90% in relieving symptoms of various skin conditions, establishing the brand as an industry leader

ARCTIVA, the innovative clean-label skincare brand, has expanded its line of steroid-free eczema and psoriasis creams with the launch of travel-size versions. The new compact options are specifically designed to offer unparalleled convenience for travelers, ensuring relief from skin condition flare-ups on the go.

“Skin conditions like eczema and psoriasis don’t take a vacation; in fact, they often flare up during travel with changes in food and climate,” said Vic Peroni, chief operating officer of ARCTIVA Wellness. “It’s vital to treat symptoms and flares consistently, and the launch of ARCTIVA's travel-sized eczema cream and psoriasis cream provides an effective, steroid-free option for travelers of all ages, including families with young children.”

Traveling can be challenging for individuals managing eczema or psoriasis, but ARCTIVA is owning the market with travel-size creams. The smaller packaging allows for easy portability, fitting perfectly into handbags, carry-on luggage, or even diaper bags. Now, travelers can enjoy stress-free vacations or trips without the worry of leaving trusted medicated skincare products behind.

The ARCTIVA brand has gained widespread recognition for its steroid-free, clean-label skincare products that deliver medical-grade performance. Each product is formulated to target the root cause of skin irritations caused by psoriasis, eczema, and other forms of dermatitis. The brand's creams are enhanced with unique HYDROSURF™ glycolipid technology, derived from natural sources including the glacial lakes of Antarctica. They are recommended by both pediatricians and dermatologists. Additionally, ARCTIVA products recently earned the seal of approval from the National Eczema Association and the National Psoriasis Foundation, adding to the body of evidence supporting its safety and effectiveness.

Recent studies confirm these creams have more than a 90% success rate in relieving symptoms of various skin conditions. The breakthrough formulations and impressive results have solidified ARCTIVA's position as an industry leader.

"By introducing the travel-size versions of eczema and psoriasis creams, we continue to prioritize the well-being of individuals affected by skin conditions, providing them with convenient and reliable solutions that fit seamlessly into their travel plans," Peroni said.
