Founded in 2003 by Kristopher Oaks, the family-owned and operated business is built on principles of professionalism, honesty, fairness, and integrity in all relationships with customers, professional contacts, and suppliers alike.

“We have a complex roof with very steep sections,” says Pittsburgh local Don in a recent review of the business. “We had many companies come out to quote... Oak’s Construction was entirely different. Mark took the time to do a thorough examination. He was up on the roof with me discussing my concerns and answered all our many questions... I feel like they did our roof as if they were doing it for their own family.”
