integration with third-party applications such as TIBCO Spotfire, Snowflake, energy/commodity trading risk management (E/CTRM) systems, settlements, and SAP.

"ZE Power has been a pioneer in data management for the energy risk and trading arena, and continues to innovate," said Sid Dash, Chief Researcher at Chartis. "Its new product capabilities contributed to ZE Power's strong position in the Energy50."

"We are immensely proud to be ranked 10th in the Chartis Energy 50 for the third consecutive year," said Aiman El-Ramly, Chief Business Officer at ZE PowerGroup. "This recognition underscores our commitment to delivering cutting-edge solutions and empowering our clients across all markets and industries. We will continue to push the boundaries of data automation and services, leveraging our expertise and industry-leading solutions to support our clients' evolving needs and help them stay ahead in today's rapidly changing business landscape."

As the only Canadian single-technology company within the top 10, ZE has demonstrated its dedication to excellence and innovation. By providing robust data solutions and comprehensive support and implementation services, ZE has consistently met the evolving needs of its clients.

In addition to its impressive Chartis Energy 50 ranking, ZE has also been honored with the Cross Market Data Management Award. This recognition highlights ZE PowerGroup as a winner in this esteemed category, reaffirming the company's expertise and commitment to delivering superior data management solutions.

Continuously striving for excellence, ZE has enhanced ZEMA to provide an even more seamless user experience. The updated platform now boasts a new user interface, an enhanced graphing engine, an improved dashboard, options curves, and support for custom business intelligence (BI) pages. These advancements further solidify ZEMA's position as a leading tool for automating the collection, transformation, and integration of market data into downstream systems.

As ZE Group celebrates its continued success and industry recognition, it remains dedicated to empowering organizations with advanced data solutions, enabling them to make informed
