School, a leading K-8 private Catholic school in Newbury, Ohio, is thrilled to announce an extraordinary initiative for the upcoming 2023-2024 academic year. Thanks to the generous support of our community through the Angel Scholarship Fund, and the recent modifications to the EdChoice Expansion State Scholarship, St. Helen School will offer a groundbreaking $0 parent tuition commitment, making their high-quality Catholic education accessible to all families throughout Northeast Ohio. Governor Mike DeWine, Senate President Matt Huffman, and the Ohio House and Senate have been instrumental in implementing these crucial changes to the EdChoice

Expansion State Scholarship program, which has paved the way for this incredible opportunity. Their unwavering commitment to the education of Ohio's youth has helped create a level playing field for families in Newbury and beyond, allowing them to provide their children with an outstanding education without the financial burden.

The success of the Angel Fund was critical to making a $0 parent tuition commitment a reality. Our parishioners and community members believe strongly in our school's mission, and it was evident in the financial support they provided. St. Helen School was number 1 in the Diocese for Angel Scholarship donations, totaling just over $156,000! The success of the Angel Scholarship Fund, combined with the work of the Ohio state government, has created a transformative opportunity for families who aspire to provide their children with a first-rate Christian education.

St. Helen School has always been at the forefront of educational excellence, nurturing young minds and preparing them for a successful future. With this new initiative, St. Helen School aims to make its exceptional educational programs accessible to all families, regardless of their financial capabilities. By eliminating the financial barrier of tuition, St. Helen School strives to ensure that every child can receive an education that empowers and enriches their lives with God's teachings.

"We are incredibly grateful to our parishioners, the Diocese of Cleveland, and the Ohio government for their support in making this groundbreaking initiative possible," said Steve Martin, Principal at St. Helen School. "By removing the burden of tuition, we are excited to welcome more families into our community, providing them with an outstanding education and fostering a supportive, faith-focused environment where every child can thrive."
