"We saw so many excellent examples of PR pros elevating their clients' messages and using their platforms for good. I think more than anything, they showed the true value of a PR practitioner," said Christopher Elliott, author, consumer advocate, nationally syndicated columnist, and veteran Bulldog PR Awards judge, in the 2023 Bulldog PR Awards press release.

These awards are special to our firm because they are judged by the people that we work with every day: journalists from across the country."

Josh Weiss, President, 10 to 1 Public Relations

"These awards are special to our firm because they are judged by the people that we work with every day: journalists from across the country," said Josh Weiss, President and Founder of 10 to 1 Public Relations. "As a traditional public relations firm focused on protecting and elevating the reputations of our clients, we thank the Bulldog PR Awards for honoring our team's work over the last year."

10 to 1 PR has experienced exceptional growth in the last five years, nearly tripling its client list and quadrupling its staff. The firm has seen demand from businesses and organizations in various industries due to its consistent success in generating thousands of earned media features and bolstering the reputations of its clients year after year. 10 to 1 PR works with clients in various industries, including finance, health and wellness, professional services, real estate, manufacturing, construction, technology, transportation, government service, nonprofit, and others.
