The New Military Legacy Collection from Alpine Rings

CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, July 27, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Alpine Rings, a veteran-owned jeweler known for their unique men's wedding bands, proudly announces the launch of their Military Legacy Collection. This groundbreaking new collection features wedding bands crafted from authentic Army Tanks, Military Ammunition, and Air Force Bomber Aircraft, bringing an unparalleled sense of history and patriotism to their customer's ring finger.

Each ring is hand made in the USA, and boasts an authentic connection to the US Military, utilizing materials that have served in our country's national defense. From the rugged M1 Abrams Battle Tank to actual rounds fired from standard issue M16 Rifle, these rings embody the resilience and strength that military personnel exemplify daily. They also designed a ring that features part of a B-52 Bomber, a nod to the CEO's own service in the Air Force.

Alpine Rings takes great pride in offering a diverse range of styles and designs within their Military Legacy Collection. One of their featured rings is called The Liberator, an awe-inspiring wedding band made from the tank barrel of the legendary M1 Abrams Battle Tank.
