F4 was an early adopter of ShedHub in the Houston area, and we're glad they have adopted us as part of their marketing mix."

Jeff H., ShedHub CEO

Graceland is a manufacturer of top-of-the-line accessory structures in Texas known for being built according to the high craftsmanship standard of the Mennonite tradition and for the trademark "G" above many of its structures. Graceland buildings are constructed in accordance with, or even to surpass, the standards of the International Building Code (IBC) for portable storage buildings.

Jeff Huxmann, CEO and co-founder of ShedHub, comments on the partnership, "F4 was an early adopter of ShedHub in the Houston area, and we're glad they have adopted us as part of their marketing mix."

F4 Portable Buildings sell structures that are set apart by using 2x6 floor joists instead of the standard 2x4, resulting in a significantly more durable and robust building, with the wood treated to resist termites and decay. Moreover, the construction of their walls, floors, and 4x6 runners incorporates top-quality lumber, while the nails used are hot dipped galvanized ring shank nails. These nails offer exceptional holding power, similar to screws, and are resistant to rust. Furthermore, Graceland's metal roofs are securely fastened to wood decking, providing enhanced durability and include continuous ridge vents with a screen, effectively keeping out pests like bugs and bees. Another exclusive feature is the patented "Continuous Soffit" vent found under each eave of Graceland buildings, helping to maintain a cooler interior temperature of 10-15 degrees during the summer months compared to its competitors' structures.

In terms of warranties, all shingle and metal roof products are backed by a 25-year manufacturer's warranty, ensuring long-term protection. Additionally, all treated wood products carry a limited lifetime manufacturer's warranty, guaranteeing the longevity of the materials. Graceland also offers a 7-year warranty on workmanship, demonstrating their commitment to quality craftsmanship. Moreover, Graceland provides customers with a rent-to-own/lease-to-own program, eliminating the need for a credit check. As an added benefit, F4 Portable Buildings offers free delivery and setup for a 50-mile radius from its location at FM 2100 Rd., making the entire process convenient and hassle-free for their customers.

ShedHub guarantees quick and easy transactions for potential buyers of accessory structures all over the United States.
