Artroom image can be generated in as little as 2 seconds. Artroom AI 2.0 also boasts best in class image quality using the latest and greatest SDXL technology.

The application is perfect for those people who are fed up with the complicated installation and slow image generation of existing tools. Designers, marketing professionals, hobbyists and web developers are expected to benefit the most from the ease, speed and quality of the new tool.

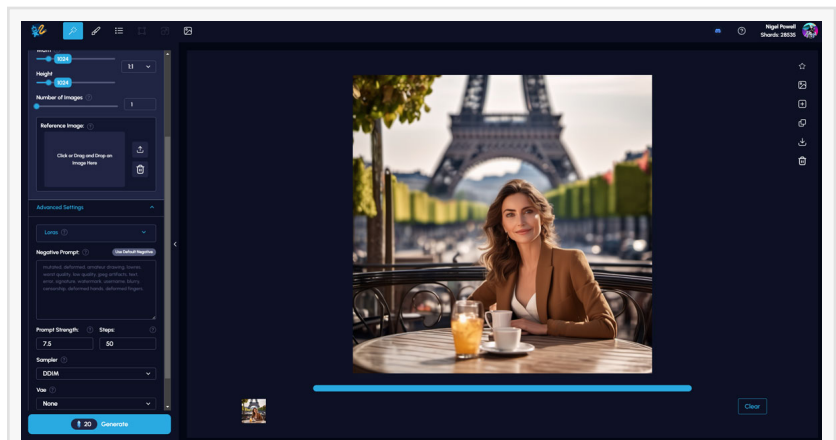

"I started developing Artroom AI because nobody seemed to care about making AI art generation easy enough for the average person to use," says Artroom AI founder and CEO Artur Mamedov, "As an ex teacher I could feel the pain of people struggling to use unfriendly software, and so the project was born."

Artroom AI 2.0 is available immediately for download or online sign up. The PC version is offered as a free Windows download (and soon Apple Mac), and as part of the launch celebration, subscriptions for the Cloud app are set at 75% off, just $2.25 a month for ever for the first 300 subscribers.
