Today, the International Competency Assessment Board (I-CAB) is excited to announce that it has officially rebranded to CogniSense, effective immediately. This transition is part of an extensive rebranding effort intended to mirror the evolution of the platform as well as its vision for the future.

While the I-CAB name has been synonymous with quality, reliability, and trusted competency assessments, the change to CogniSense better reflects our goal to make the capabilities of the mind (Cogni) more visible (Sense) and a tangible resource in the operation of a business and in the demonstration of the cumulative competence of a companies personnel.
