

ESPN Spotlights the FIGF 2023 FootGolf World Cup

The broadcast will let the world see the magic of this growing sport with video coverage of the recent FIGF FootGolf World Cup Orlando 2023.

ORLANDO, FLORIDA, USA, August 2, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ESPN, the "Worldwide Leader in Sports," adds another international sport to its showcase of sporting competitions worldwide, presented by the American FootGolf Federation (AFGF).

On Friday, Aug. 4, ESPN will, for the first time, broadcast and stream highlights of the Federation for International FootGolf (FIGF) FootGolf World Cup Orlando 2023, held this past May 27-June 6 on the Evermore Resort Grand Cypress and Disney's Palm golf courses in Orlando, FL.

ESPN announces the worldwide broadcast of the 2023 FootGolf World Cup

ESPN's FootGolf special uses video content produced by CTV Sports, which streamed the event live on its app over the 10 days of competition. It includes the champions from six categories:

- Men: Bence Bacskai, Hungary
- Women: Lucia Cermakova, Slovakia
- Senior Men: Jan Aksel Odden, Norway
- Men's Team: France
- Women's Team: Japan
- Men's Senior Team: Argentina

CTV's CEO Mike Ferreira adds, "To grow a sport, the world needs to see how exciting and passion-filled it is. The CTV Sports app (available in Apple and Android stores) made it free and accessible. But now, by partnering with ESPN, the image of the game of FootGolf will be seen by a much larger audience."

ESPN will showcase the world's best footgolfers who competed on some of FootGolf's most beautiful and challenging courses."
