Through the upcoming HR 101 Compliance Essentials Certification Series, California Employers Association aims to empower emerging HR professionals with foundational skills, while encouraging those more experienced to continually invest in development.

From September 6 through September 27, this virtual four-part training series will cover the essential functions of human resources and allow HR pros to confidently manage the personnel process within an organization.

Weekly topics will include Hiring, Wage & Hour and Employee Handbooks, Leaves of Absence, and Performance Management & Terminations. Registrants may save money by attending the full series, or choose individual classes. Recordings will also be available for self-paced training.

Participants who attend the full series will be eligible for an HR 101 Certificate from CEA along with 6 HRCI and 6 SHRM continuing education credits.

About the CEA Trainer

HR Director Mari Bradford is an HR expert on California employment law and compliance matters. A dynamic speaker with a great sense of humor, Mari is able to see through the smoke of a complex issue and provide employers with the tools they need to handle the root cause of a problem quickly.
