The goal with the new website was to significantly improve the user experience and to ensure the best recommendations for each individual”

James Lambridis, CEO Debt MD

"The goal with the new website was to significantly improve the user experience and to ensure the best recommendations for each individual" said James Lambridis, CEO. "We've upgraded our existing features such as the Smart Debt Analyzer™ and introduced a new credit score calculator to add even more value for our users."

The entire website's aesthetic and functional design was the brainchild of WiT Group's Creative Director, Aidan Eaton. The aim of the project was to bring DebtMD into the limelight of the debt solutions marketplace with a contemporary yet user-friendly interface. Eaton added, "We wanted to create a website that was current and visually appealing but also simple, user-friendly, and highly functional. This is just the beginning of a multi-phase plan to elevate DebtMD's online presence, and we're excited to see the impact it will have."

WiT Group is proud to provide web design and development services as well as systems
