

The Mark Schonwetter Holocaust Education Foundation Announces The 3rd Annual Journey For The Living Challenge

Registration Open September 1, 2023

LIVINGSTON, NEW JERSEY, USA, August 4, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Mark Schonwetter Holocaust Education Foundation (MSHEF) is thrilled to announce the launch of its 3rd annual peer-to-peer fundraising challenge, Journey for the Living. Set to take place throughout the month of November, this inspiring initiative invites participants to raise funds for Holocaust Education by walking, running, or riding 15 miles. This symbolic distance represents the arduous journey Holocaust survivor Mark Schonwetter undertook with his mother and younger sister during the Holocaust as they sought safety, escaping their hometown in Poland to reach a ghetto.

The Journey for the Living(JFTL) fundraising challenge serves as a powerful means to support the foundation's profound mission. By providing grants to educators nationwide, MSHEF aims to teach anti-hate initiatives, respect, and kindness to students through Holocaust education. As one educator said about their MSHEF grant, "... I wasn't sure how my students would receive the book or the subject of the Holocaust as a whole, but I knew that now, more than ever before, in this climate of hate that continues to grow in our world, it was so important to teach! Not only did the 8th graders accept the topic, but they embraced it, and all the life lessons that came along with it.”

Live every day with love not hatred and you will accomplish so much more in life.”

Mark Schonwetter

Open to individuals, organizations, and schools, this event presents an excellent opportunity to unite and take the challenge as teams. For schools and their classes, registration is absolutely free, and educators can reach out to connect@mshefoundation.org for more details.

As participants embark on their 15-mile journey, they contribute to an enduring legacy of remembrance, understanding, and compassion. Each step they take represents a step towards a brighter future, where the echoes of the past guide us in fostering a more empathetic and inclusive world. To embark on this transformative journey, interested participants can register at <https://www.charityfootprints.com/journeyfortheiving>.

About the Mark Schonwetter Holocaust Education Foundation:

The Mark Schonwetter Holocaust Education Foundation (MSHEF) is a non-profit organization that provides grants for educators to teach anti-hate initiatives, respect, and kindness to students nationwide through Holocaust education.

Co-founded in 2019 by Ann Arnold and Isabella Fiske in honor of their father Mark Schonwetter, a Holocaust survivor, the foundation funds grants for educators up to $1,000 to provide learning materials, books, support field trips and programming, and bring Holocaust survivor speakers into schools and classrooms.

In just 3 years, the Mark Schonwetter Holocaust Education Foundation has granted over $195,000, covering 30 states and reaching over 73,000 students.
