Habitat for Humanity's goal is to ensure that everyone has a safe and warm place to call home. They focus on building communities through acts of service with their build projects or by collecting furniture donations at their ReStores. This dedication to the community is why different Habitat for Humanity's all around Ohio are often on the list of The Union Bank Co.'s nonprofits each month.

For July, The Union Bank Co. went bigger and donated $3000 to this section of Habitat for Humanity which serves a large area of towns across the middle of Ohio. With a reach much larger than one town, a donation from the bank can help people in need all across central Ohio.

“It's really wonderful to see local organizations give back,” President & CEO of Mid-Ohio Habitat for Humanity, E.J. Thomas stated. “We value The Union Bank Company's team support as it's always such a blessing to the work of serving our partner families.
