Dr. Nancy Jefferson, poultry nutritionist for Kalmbach Feeds®, said of the event, "Flock owners who brought home chicks in the spring are excited to see those first eggs their hens are laying. Layer Days® is designed to share in that excitement and help educate those owners on the nutrition needs of the laying hen."

Kalmbach Layer Days® is a two-month long event designed to offer education and fun for backyard flock owners with laying hens. In addition to the sweepstakes, the event will include a live webinar with Dr. Nancy Jefferson, nutrition and health education videos, and fun prizes offered to winners of weekly social media contests.

The sweepstakes grand prize package includes: two bags of Henhouse Reserve® per month for a year (total of twenty-four 50 lb. bags), and one Henhouse Reserve® Block per month for a year (total of 12 blocks).
