A Testament to Quality and Transparency

"No company pays a fee to be considered for the List, it is completely voluntary (and free) to be considered. No company provides samples or free products," said Susan Thixton. "I have great respect for the companies that go to the effort (and expense) to make a quality treat product."

Real Dog Box's inclusion in the list is a testament to the company's unwavering commitment to quality and transparency. All manufacturing and product information was carefully vetted and verified by Thixton herself.
