Social impact through tech education is at the heart of our partnership with Blockchain Lex Group. Together, we are committed to providing more transformative career opportunities for women and youth.”

Sameer Somal, CFA, Co-Founder, Girl Power Talk

Blockchain Lex Group, a pioneering provider of legal and financial support, leverages cutting-edge blockchain and smart contract technology to identify financial prospects and business opportunities. With an unwavering commitment to raising awareness, Blockchain Lex Group offers their tailored “Learn 2 Earn” courses, which are transformative through meaningful work opportunities. Their approach to education, empowerment, and providing young people with the skills needed to become tomorrow’s leaders aligns with the core mission of Girl Power Talk.

Girl Power Talk is an innovative social enterprise with headquarters in India, representing 30-plus countries across four continents. The company offers niche consulting and solutions with an acute focus on balancing profit with purpose. Girl Power Talk provides merit-based opportunities to the most-capable women and brilliant youth in developing nations. The company's progressive work culture is grounded in four key pillars:

- Diversity and Inclusion
- Entrepreneurial Culture
- Generating Impact
- Women in Technology

The collaboration will be supported by strategic partners that share the same values, including Blue Ocean Global Technology, a renowned digital reputation and technology development agency based in New York.

Blockchain Lex Group and Girl Power Talk will work together to develop solutions that drive positive change and sustainable impact. This initiative will provide women with a path forward to build a more sustainable future.

"This partnership signifies our collective dedication to empowering individuals, disrupting traditional norms, and fostering global growth," said Brian Sanya Mondoh, Esq, Founder of Blockchain Lex Group. "Girl Power Talk represents the difference between an organization that happens to benefit women and girls and an organization that from inception has aimed to benefit women and girls. Together, we will create a more inclusive and prosperous future."

While hiring more women, especially in positions of influence, is important, it isn't enough. The most powerful approach to achieving parity may be gender lens investing, which can benefit
