To say that we are blessed to do what we do is an understatement. I am so grateful for the faith that our clients bestow in our partnership and for being awarded 6 design awards this summer.”

Wendy Glaister, owner and principal, of Wendy Glaister Interiors shared, “To say that we are blessed to do what we do is an understatement. So many opportunities exist to make a special place for our clients and their families. I am so grateful for the faith that our clients bestow in our collective partnership. We come alongside them and offer our aesthetic, expertise, project management skills, and the technical knowledge that will make pulling their project together fun, not frustrating.”

Wendy Glaister opened her namesake firm after a conversation with her grandmother. “Everyone knows you were born to be a designer, Wendy. Why don’t you do it?” she asked. Still operating on her grandmother’s advice, throughout California for 17 years. Her firm's award-winning residential and commercial projects have been published in numerous magazines, won countless awards, and she afforded her the opportunity to travel the country speaking about the business of interior design, overcoming obstacles, and fulfilling your calling through creative entrepreneurship.

Houzz recently awarded Wendy Glaister Interiors with a Best of Houzz, Bathroom of the Week, for their firm's stunning update to a local couple's ranch-style Manteca home. Their firm was hired alongside Builder Dean Adkins to reimagine the layout and relocate a closet in order to enlarge the master bathroom. Stephanie Poulsen, WGI Design Associate, took the lead on this project and the result is a modern and stylish update to 1980s home that features timeless blue and white hues with classic finishes. The remodel focused on implementing innovative aging-in-place design to the master suite.

"Designing for our clients is a huge responsibility. In the Central Valley, we have a lot of hard-working farming families and I take great pride in our firm's ability to provide beautiful designs while exercising appropriate stewardship to make each client's homes work for and look like them," shared Wendy.

Wendy further shared that creating award-winning projects starts with the partnerships you foster working with skilled tradespeople and local craftspeople as well as her photographer Mark Verschelden. "All I have is a picture in my mind of what I believe will make my clients happy. Without gifted general contractors and subcontractors, none of this would be possible. From the specialty retail showrooms, I frequent like Abe's Discount Plumbing, Phillips Lighting & Home, House of Carpets, and Suite 52 Living to the incredibly skilled electricians, fabricators, cabinet builders, and tile setters - everyone has a critical role to play.
