

Stukent Lands a Spot on the Inc. 5000 List for the Sixth Year Running

IDAHO FALLS, IDAHO, UNITED STATES, August 15, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Stukent, an innovator in education technology, proudly announces its inclusion on the Inc. 5000 List for the sixth straight year. Fewer than 1% of businesses in the United States have made the Inc. 5000 list six times in a row, distinguishing Stukent as a leader in the edtech industry.

Stukent stands among 68 other companies from the education sector on this list, which features the fastest-growing companies in the United States. The Inc. 5000 reflects the hard work and resilience of numerous businesses, with Stukent named alongside internationally recognized brands such as Intuit, Zappos, and Microsoft. The honor underscores Stukent's effort to close the gap between academia and fast-moving, dynamic industries.

6 YEARS IN A ROW

"Running a business has only gotten harder since the end of the pandemic," says Inc. editor-in-chief Scott Omelianuk. "To make the Inc. 5000 — with the fast growth it requires — is truly an accomplishment. Inc. is thrilled to honor the companies that are building our future."

“

Being on the Inc. 5000 list for six years straight showcases our dedication to elevating education and supporting students globally.”

Stuart Draper, Stukent CEO

Established in 2013 by CEO and founder Stuart Draper, Stukent develops first-in-the-world Simternships™, or simulated internships, and digital courseware for cutting-edge high school and higher education classrooms. Driven by the mission to help educators help students help the world, Stukent's resources now support over 14,000 educators in 84 countries. By the fall 2023 semester, more than one million students will have used Stukent's platforms to prepare for bright, successful careers.

Commenting on this milestone, Draper stated, "Being on the Inc. 5000 list for six years straight showcases our dedication to elevating education and supporting students globally. A big thanks to our innovation partners and the internal teams who've been pivotal in our journey."

The Inc. 5000 criteria focus on revenue growth between 2017 and 2020. Stukent's inclusion on the Inc. 5000 list for the sixth consecutive year is a testament to its indomitable spirit, innovation-driven approach, and unwavering commitment to shaping the future of education on a global scale.
