ROI in reusable containers and improved management across facilities. This reduced expedited shipping and expendable costs by ensuring closed-loop assets are efficiently managed and accounted for.

Key Features and Benefits of the GPX Intelligence platform, including the Dwell Report Dashboard:

- Real-Time Tracking: The GPX Intelligence platform offers comprehensive, real-time tracking of inventory and shipments at various stages of the supply chain. This allows businesses to monitor the movement of goods from supplier to end-user, ensuring timely deliveries and reducing operational delays.

- Dwell Data Visualization: Through intuitive data visualization, businesses can grasp complex supply chain data at a glance. With interactive tables, the Dwell Report Dashboard presents critical information in a user-friendly manner, enabling swift analysis and decision-making.

- Performance Metrics: To drive continuous improvement, the Dwell Report Dashboard provides valuable performance metrics, allowing businesses to set benchmarks, monitor progress, and optimize operations for enhanced efficiency and cost-effectiveness.

- Collaborative Platform: The GPX Intelligence platform and its Dwell Report Dashboard facilitates collaboration and communication across all stakeholders in the supply chain. Suppliers, logistics partners, and internal teams can share real-time data and insights, fostering a cohesive and agile supply chain network.

- Scalable and Customizable: GPX understands that each business has unique supply chain requirements. The GPX Intelligence platform is designed to be scalable and customizable, accommodating businesses of all sizes and complexities, and adapting to evolving needs.

GPX's CEO, Gabriel Weeks, expressed his excitement about the Dwell Report Dashboard's impact, stating, "The Dwell Report Dashboard is a game-changer for the industry. We believe that equipping businesses with actionable data intelligence will empower them to optimize their supply chain operations, drive ROI, and ultimately deliver enhanced customer experiences. And we don't just believe it; we're hearing it from our early adopters. A large Swedish automotive OEM noted, 'this is exactly what we're looking for!'"
