BALPA are the professional association and registered trade union established to represent the interests of all UK pilots. They also deploy powerful tools in addition to this functional expertise to match the strategic objectives, personality profiling and skills and experience to find the very best talent.

"We are delighted to have been selected to work with BALPA in their search and selection for their new General Secretary. This is a strategically significant role which will be responsible for continuing to lead BALPA in its mission to support UK pilots, as they have done since 1937." Says Chris Percival, Managing Director of CJPI

CJPI are on the hunt for an individual who possesses a wealth of practical leadership experience in a complimentary environment and who has experience in leadership roles within a trade union or membership body, along with thorough knowledge of the regulatory landscape.
