Inc. editor-in-chief Scott Omelianuk

global multi-cloud governance provider, is delighted to announce its achievement of making the coveted 2023 Inc. 5000 list. Recognized as one of the fastest-growing private companies in the U.S., CoreStack's inclusion on this prestigious list underscores its striking growth and transformative influence within the cloud industry. The prestigious ranking provides a data-driven look at the most successful companies within the economy's most dynamic segment—its independent, entrepreneurial businesses.

Of the 5,000 businesses on Inc.'s list in 2023, CoreStack comes in as the 835th fastest-growing company, the 120th in Software, the 10th best performing company in the Seattle area, and the 12th in Washington. The company's place on this year's list is thanks to 812% growth year-over-year.

The Inc. 5000 class of 2023 represents companies that have driven rapid revenue growth while navigating inflationary pressure, the rising costs of capital, and seemingly intractable hiring challenges.

“Running a business has only gotten harder since the end of the pandemic,” says Inc. editor-in-chief Scott Omelianuk. “To make the Inc. 5000—with the fast growth that requires—is truly an accomplishment. Inc. is thrilled to honor the companies that are building our future.”

"This recognition is a significant milestone that showcases our unwavering commitment to revolutionize the cloud industry and our team's relentless efforts," says CoreStack's CEO, Ezhilarasan (Ez) Natarajan. "Our placement on the Inc. 5000 list is not just an indicator of our robust growth but also a validation of the tangible benefits our technology extends to our partners and customers."
