UK, August 15, 2023 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Vidac Pharma is proud to announce that its next pre-Phase 3 Clinical trial on advanced Actinic Keratosis will be held in close collaboration with Centroderm GmbH headed by Prof. Thomas Dirschka a world Key Opinion Leader in the dermatology field. The two parties are working together to establish the precise protocol of the trial which will address the more advanced cases of Actinic Keratosis with high proliferation profile which are the most prone to evolve into Squamous Cell Carcinoma a dangerous form of Cancer.

Vidac Pharma developed a completely new approach to Non-Melanoma Skin Cancer with potentially low side effect due to the specificity of their drug candidate.”

Dr. Dirschka

Prof Dirschka`s dermatological clinic possesses all the capacities to both select and treat those patients with potential high risk and declared “We are happy to work with Vidac Pharma which developed a completely new approach to Non-Melanoma Skin Cancer with potentially low side effect due to the specificity of their drug candidate”.

Prof. Herzberg Chairman of Vidac Pharma commented “Most of the lesions in Actinic Keratosis are not going to evolve on the spectrum to Squamous Cell Carcinoma. Our product aims to target those which have this dangerous potential and only those. In previous Phase 2B we observed exceptionally low side effects because of this specificity. We are very hopeful that this collaboration combining the exceptional capacities of Centroderm and Prof Dirschka research and our new approach to reverse the Warburg effect will help patients in the near future.”
