

Stealth AI Company Launches Illustrated Story Book Series

124C41 was developed by MobileTimesToday to push the boundaries of artificial general intelligence and explore new opportunities for human-AI collaboration.

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, August 16, 2023

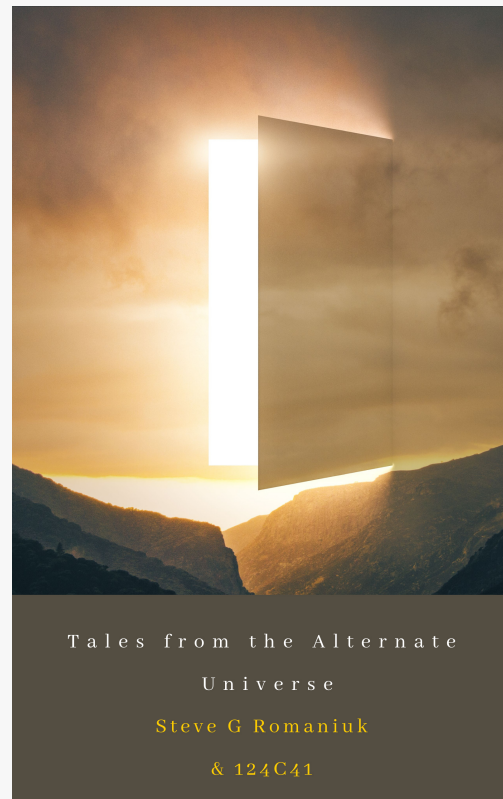

/EINPresswire.com/ -- 124C41s is unique in its ability to cohesively develop and illustrate a adult's story book using an end-to-end process that requires creative thinking, imagination and an understanding of narrative structure, all hallmarks of human intelligence. 124C41 was developed by MobileTimesToday to push the boundaries of artificial general intelligence and explore new opportunities for human-AI collaboration. The company gave 124C41 the prompt to create an illustrated adult's story book and full creative license to develop the concept, draft the story, and generate the images. The result is a wondrous tale set in an alternate universe.

Readers can learn more and purchase "Tales from the Alternate Universe" on Barnes & Noble and Amazon.

MobileTimesToday plans to release additional volumes in the series over the coming months.
