According to Davina Kaonohi, CEO and Co-Founder of Element Apothec, " As the CEO of Element Apothec and a proud Hawaiian, I am reaching out to you today to share something deeply personal and close to my heart. The devastating fires that have affected Maui this past week have hit especially close to home for me. Having previously lived on Maui, spent part of my childhood there, and having ohana who call the island home, I find myself reflecting deeply on the importance of community and support. This experience serves as a poignant reminder of the strength that emerges when our ohana comes together in times of crisis. Our beloved Maui has faced unimaginable loss and hardship, and it's a testament to the power of unity that we can make a positive impact together."

“

Davina worked for Recruiting for Good a couple of years ago, as our Chief Community Officer; I care about her and her causes too!"
