About Eric Javits Inc:

Eric Javits, a renowned member of the Council of Fashion Designers of America and acclaimed Hat Designer of the Year and Hat Designer of the Decade (1990-1999), is a luxury resort accessory designer. Since founding his eponymous company in 1985, Eric has dedicated himself to creating exquisite headwear, handbags, shoes, and small accessories for active women.

Every Eric Javits hat is meticulously hand-blocked and hand finished by highly skilled craftsmen. With a background in fine arts as a painter and sculptor, Eric's designs are carefully crafted and molded to enhance and harmonize the wearer's features.

One of Eric's trademarks is the revolutionary Squishee® material, a registered fiber braid that he personally designed and developed in 1995. This innovation was driven by the need for durable and versatile products while addressing concerns about melanoma and sun damage. Unlike other natural fiber products, those made from the Squishee® braid are light, breathable, and retain their shape even after being packed for travel. The tight weave provides maximum protection, blocking 95% of the sun's harmful ultraviolet rays.

Eric Javits designs are sought after worldwide and are available in top-tier department stores and specialty stores across the United States and internationally. His creations have graced the covers and editorial pages of esteemed magazines like Vogue, W Magazine, Bazaar, Vanity Fair, Town & Country, and Elle.
